Electric Service Request - Landlord

The Federal Trade Commission (FTC) is requiring financial institutions, creditors, and utilities to implement the Red Flag Rule as part of the Fair and Accurate Credit Transactions (FACT) Act of 2003. The Red Flag Rule requires us to validate a person's identity prior to establishing an account in a person's name.

If Connexus Energy is unable to establish the account in the requested party's name, we will call the party to inform them, along with the Landlord listed below.

I have read and agree to the General Service Rules*, and I understand there will be a $22.00 service-processing charge for all new applicants.

By signing below, I have read and understand that a soft credit check will be run on my Social Security number to validate my identity and establish whether my account will be assessed a deposit. If a deposit is required, the customer will receive a letter in the mail and the deposit will appear on their first bill. You will be notified prior to processing your application if a deposit is required.
